Terms of Service / Professional Disclosure Statement

Welcome to my practice. This document contains important information about my professional services and business policies. Please read it carefully and ask any questions at our next meeting. When you sign this document, it will represent an agreement between us.

Washington State Law requires that all therapists provide clients with written information about their qualifications, treatment philosophy and methods, and service policies. It is your right and responsibility to choose the provider and treatment that best suits your needs. To help you make your choice and to help facilitate our work together, here is some basic information about me and my therapy practice. Please read this information carefully and ask me to explain anything that you don't understand. This statement, in its entirety, serves as our agreement to our respective rights and responsibilities as therapist and client. You will be asked to sign it after reading it and before we begin our therapy together.

Education:

1999 M.S. Counseling Psychology, Professional Counselor Preparation, Southern Oregon University 1989 B.S. Marketing/International Business, University of Colorado 1989 B.A. Communication – Small Group/Interpersonal, University of Colorado

Philosophy and Approach:

As a student of the human condition, I continue to develop my professional theoretical philosophy. I approach most cases with a cognitive-behavioral perspective which is influenced by my existential-humanistic and multicultural orientations.

I view the psychotherapy process as a collaborative effort between the client and myself. Understanding the client's worldview and their presenting issue is my initial step in the psychotherapy process. Establishing a desired goal with the client and working towards that goal together is inherent in my collaborative counseling style. The presenting concern may be trauma, relationship, developmental, existential, career etc. I believe self-acceptance and responsibility are essential to a healthy existence. Particularly in today's post-modern world, creating a balance between self, family, community, and spirituality is a constant challenge. My goal as a psychotherapist is to assist the client with any immediate concerns and enable self growth as a result.

Confidentiality and Privacy:

I will keep confidential anything you say to me, with a few exceptions as required by law-RCW 18.19.180(1) through (6).

I participate in a consultative group of experienced therapists. Good clinical practice requires occasional peer review and consultation within this group. Please be aware that your case may be clinically reviewed in this or other consult settings.

I have been provided a copy of Mark Lazich's professional profile, the "Terms of Service / Professional Disclosure Statement" and the "Notice of Practices Regarding Protected Health Information" and read and understand the information provided.

Notice of Privacy Practices Regarding Protected Health Information effective April 14, 2003

To our clients: We are required to give this notice to you under the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA). This notice describes how psychological/ medical information about you may be used and disclosed, and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

I. Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations

Your Protected Health Information (PHI) is any information about your past, present, or future physical or mental health conditions or treatment, or any other information that could identify you.

By initialing on the "Terms of Service" agreement, you are indicating that you received and reviewed this form, and you are giving consent for us to "use" your PHI within our practice group, or "disclose" your PHI to an outside entity for the following purposes:

- Treatment: providing, coordinating, or managing your health care and other services related to your health care. An example would be when your therapist consults with another health care provider, such as your family physician.
- Payment: obtaining reimbursement for your healthcare. Examples include when we disclose your PHI to your health insurer to obtain payment for your health care, or to determine your insurance eligibility or coverage.
- Health Care Operations: activities that relate to the performance and operation of our practice. Examples are quality assessment and improvement activities, business-related matters such as audits and administrative services, and clinical peer review.

II. Uses and Disclosures Requiring Authorization

Outside of routine treatment, payment, and health care operations, we will not release your PHI unless you sign an Authorization Form authorizing that specific disclosure.

We would also need to obtain your authorization before releasing your "Psychotherapy Notes" — notes your therapist has made about your conversations during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session, which are kept separate from the rest of your medical record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection than other PHI.

You may revoke all such authorizations (of PHI and/or Psychotherapy Notes) at any time, provided each revocation is in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that (1) we have already released information based on that authorization; or (2) if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage, and the law provides the insurer the right to contest the claim under the policy.

III. Uses and Disclosures with Neither Consent nor Authorization

We may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization in the following circumstances:

• Child Abuse: If your therapist has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, she/he is required by law to report it to the proper law enforcement authorities.

- Adult and Domestic Abuse: If your therapist has reasonable cause to believe that abandonment, abuse, financial exploitation, sexual or physical assault, or neglect of a vulnerable adult has occurred, she/he must immediately report it to the appropriate authorities.
- Health Oversight: If the State Department of Health subpoenas your therapist as part of its investigations, hearings, or proceedings relating to the discipline, issuance, or denial of licensure to therapists, she/he must comply. This could include disclosing your relevant mental health information.
- Judicial or Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a court proceeding, we will release information only with the written authorization of you/your legal representative, or a subpoena of which you have been notified, or a court order. (This privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or for the court. You will be informed in advance if this is the case.)
- Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may disclose your mental health information to any person without authorization if we reasonably believe that disclosure will avoid or minimize imminent danger to your health or safety, or the health or safety of any other individual.
- Worker's Compensation: If you file a worker's compensation claim, we must make all mental health information in our possession that is relevant to the injury available to your employer, your representative, and the Department of Labor and Industries upon their request.

IV. Patient's Rights

- Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request restrictions on specific uses and/or disclosures of your PHI. However, we are not required to agree to a restriction you request.
- Right to Receive Confidential Communications by Alternative Means at Alternative Locations: You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of PHI by alternative means and at alternative locations (for example, only calling you at work).
- Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect and/or obtain a copy of PHI and Psychotherapy Notes in our mental health and billing records. We may deny your access to PHI under certain circumstances, but in some cases you may have this decision reviewed.
- Right to Amend: You have the right to request an amendment of PHI for as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. We may deny your request if we believe the original information is accurate.
- Right to an Accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to receive a list of the disclosures that our office has made of your PHI. Some exceptions do apply.

V. Therapist's Duties

- We are required by law to maintain the privacy of your PHI and to provide you with this Notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to PHI.
- We reserve the right to change the privacy policies and practices described in this Notice. Unless we notify you by mail of changes, we are required to abide by the terms in this Notice.

VI. Complaints

If you have a complaint about the way we have handled your privacy rights, you may contact please contact me at the above address or you may also send a written complaint to the Secretary of the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services. Our office can provide you with the appropriate address upon request.
